Shorewood Residential

A newly-renovated, private-pay residential treatment program for women. Located in an inviting, suburban setting, Shorewood House features upgraded amenities. With a capacity for just eight women, treatment is highly-individualized and offers the same holistic, trauma-informed and strength-based treatment approach for which Meta House is known.

Residential treatment services are available at Shorewood House for $15,000 per month. Your private insurance may also cover part or all of your stay. Call us for more information.

Meta Residential

A 35-bed residential treatment program for women and their children. Located on our main campus in Milwaukee's Riverwest neighborhood, comprehensive services include individual and group therapies, child and family services and vocation & education services.

For families with an annual income of less than $50,000, residential treatment at Meta House is offered at $5,250 per month.

For families with an annual income of more than $50,000, residential treatment at Meta House is available for $7,500 per month.

Outpatient Treatment

A highly-individualized day treatment program designed to meet women where they are in their recovery. Comprehensive services include individual and group therapies, child and family services, vocation & education services and case management.

Day treatment services at Meta House are offered at a rate of approximately $2,600 per month depending on the level of service needed. Please call us for more information.

Many of our clients are eligible to receive treatment at little to no cost out of pocket. Please call us for more information.
